

Institute on Philanthropy and Voluntary Service June & July, 2010 Georgetown University - Washington, DC

Sponsored by The Fund for American Studies in partnership with Georgetown University, the Institute is a summer academic internship program held in Washington, D.C. for undergraduate students interested in volunteerism and careers in the nonprofit sector.

The Institute combines substantive professional experience for 30 hours a week with a challenging academic experience. This fast-paced, eight-week residential program provides students from around the world with the opportunities to gain an edge in today's competitive job market and graduate school admissions, and experience the excitement of Washington first-hand.

We are pleased to offer special scholarship consideration to American Humanics students. Please indicate that you are an American Humanics student on your resume and in your application in order to qualify.

- NextGen Leaders – Earn the required nonprofit internship hours
- Internships – Competitive placements with leading nonprofit organizations
- Classes – Up to 9 transferable credits in ethics and philanthropy from Georgetown University
- Housing – Roommate matching and furnished on-campus apartments in the heart of D.C.
- Service – A variety of hands-on community projects
- Guest Lectures – With Washington's top nonprofit executives and scholars
- Leadership & Professional Development – Leadership, mentoring and career building activities
- Networking – With seasoned nonprofit professionals and top student leaders from around the world
- Scholarships – Over half of all students receive full or partial funding based on merit and financial need

The Institute will be held in June & July, 2010. Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until March 5, 2010. Students who complete their application by the early deadline of December 4, 2009 will receive a 5% tuition discount and priority internship placement.

For more information or to start an application, please visit our website at www.DCinternships.org/IPVS. Questions may be directed to Emily Hill, IPVS Program Manager, at IPVS@tfas.org or 800-741-6964.

"Attending the Institute on Philanthropy and Volunteer Service was an experience that enhanced my desire to work in the nonprofit sector. The combination of a nonprofit internship, taking courses at Georgetown and attending professional development activities well-prepared me for my future career."

-Bridget Howland, 2009 IPVS Alumna and American Humanics member at Kansas State University